If I may be permitted to make a suggestion, it would be, that the Legislature without delay, and without interserence with the call of a convention, might inaugurate meeting of the border States of Delawars, Maryland, reginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, slave States, and New Jersey, Pennsylvania, this, indiana, llinois, and lows, free States, through two commissioners to be appointed by each, to arrange, if possible, a programme of adjustment to be submitted to the other States, as continuive of the whole matter. Should they agree, I think their recommendations would be rollowed by the ther states, and incorporated into the constitution and asced on the footing of an unafterable compact. Surely a States can be more deeply interested in the work of extering the country to quiet and harmony, If they annot agree, then it may safely be concluded that the estoration of peace and concord has become impossible would have an early day appointed for the meeting of the Commissioners, to be appointed by the Governors, or agislatures if in seasien, so that Virginia when she olds her Convontion may be in full possession of the result.

All other efforts having failed, then I would advise, as ther Convention may be in full possession of the rel other efforts having failed, then I would advise, as irnier measure, a Convention of all the Southern se, and after incorporating upon the present constiin guarantees, going not one tota beyond what strict ce and the security of the South require, adopt the titution of the United States as it now is, and give odd invitation to the other States to enter our Union, the old flag flying over one and all. When this is

, I would say in conclusion to all my countrymen, back in all speed to the constitution, thus invigoand strengthened, and let this for all time to come

Mr. P. C. Baker delivered the first address on his "Travels in Europe, and the progress of Printing." This was an excellent paper, deficient in some points which might have been elaborated with effect, but as a passing review worthy of great praise.

After a selection from Handel's "strength" by John Liewett, the programme for the evening was formulated in the following order:—

The printer's festival was, on the whole, worthy of so important an association of intellectual and instructed men, and though the tripping feet of the dancers were absent from the ball, there was enjoyment in every part of the proceedings, which terminated as it began, in per feet harmony.

Arson Case-Verdict of Guilty.

Jan. 17 .- The case of Simon Kratz, which has occupied the Court for the past three days, was resumed. Mr. H. L. Clinton, in an eloquent address, summed up on the part of the prisoner. After submitting various legal points to the Court, he submitted that the story told by the prisoner's nepthew, Louis Kratz, upon which the prosecution relied, was not entitled to belief after the evidence address on the part of the defence, and the contradictions which were proven against him. Mr. Clinton spoke at some length, and at the close of his remarks the audience slightly applauded the coursel, but were quickly reprinated by the officers of the court.

The District Attorney followed, after which the Judge charged the jury, who retired, and after an absonce of twenty minutes returned a verdict of guility.

Judge Leonard then sentenced the prisoner to imprisonment in the State prison for life.

Mr. Ginton applied for a stay of proceedings until the matter be brought before the General Term.

The District Attorney replied that he would keep the prisoner in the city until the case could be argued.

The Court then took up a murder case, and after the jury was empanelled the Court adjourned. L. Clinton, in an eloquent address, summed up on the part

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THURSDAY, Jan. 17-6 P. M. The case in money continues, and we hear of more strictly first class paper going at seven per cent. Many good names, however, which sold readily before the present crisis at 8 a 9, will not now pass at all. This is especially the case with houses whose trade lies with the South. They are now suffering what the houses in the Western trade ermined about the Treasury notes which are to be bid for on Saturday. As the present twelve per cent notes sell at 21/4 a 1/4 premium, it is presumed that the new batch will be awarded at 9 a 10 per cent interest. The security, we need hardly add, is undoubted, and the money market tends to a condition of things during which first class seven per cent securities will be scarce. We annex an official statement of the outstanding loans of the firm, the following being the quotations:—United States 5's, 1874, 93 a ½; Virginia 6's, 74½ a ½; Tennessees, 74 a ½; Missouri 6's, 67½ a 68½; Canton, 14 a 15; Cumberland Coal preferred, 8 a 9; Pacific Mail, 90 a ½; New York Central, 78½ a 80; Eric, 39% a %; Hudson River, 47% a %; Harlem, 15% a %; do. preferred, 38% a %; Beading, 43% a 44; Michigan Central, 55 a %; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana, 15 a %; do. guaranteed, 34 and Northern Indiana, 15 a ½; do. guaranteed, 34 a ½; Panams, 115½ a 116; Illinois Central, 86½ a 87; Galena and Chicago, 48½ a ½; Cleveland and Toledo, 34½ a ½; Chicago and Rock Island, 57½ a ½; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, 71½ a 72. The Secession Convention of the State of Louisiana will assemble at Baton Rouge on Wednesday, that it will at once proceed to vote the State out of the Union. The chances are, indeed, that this will be done; for in Louisiana, as in other Gulf States, the power seems to have passed out of the hands of men of property and station to be mo-nopolized by the class which has nothing to lose. Still, it can hardly be that so wealthy a State as Louisians will be suffered to deliberately commit commercial suicide without some protest from sides being a large cotton growing State, is the largest producer of sugar in the Union, and by far the heaviest exporter of cotton. It is easy to see that the secession of the State is going to annihilate both these interests—that of the sugar planters and that of the cotton shippers. The sugar crop of Louisiana in 1859 was worth about $12,000,000; the crop of 1860 will hardly be worth as much, in consequence of the recent beavy fall in prices; in 1858, when some 350,000 gar something like $17,000,000. These figures will convey an idea of the amount of money which has been invested in land, machinery, negroes, &c., in the raising of sugar in the State of Louisiana.

Under the laws of the federal Union Louisiana sugar is protected by a duty of 30 per cent. Though the annual importation of foreign sugars is more than four times the product of the cane in Louisiana, the people of the United States for many years patiently paid a tax of fifty, and now per cent, in order to leave a fair profit on their business; and when the tariff is altered. as it will be this year, no doubt the duty on ward will be raised. But what, in vier of these facts, is to become of the sugar interests of Louisiana, when that State, separated from the Union, becomes a member of a confederacy wedded to free trade? What is to become of all the money invested in land, machinery and negroes?
It will be idle to expect Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina to agree te tax their sugar. They are bent on having it free from Cuba. It is almost the only substantial gain they can fairly expect by secession. And if, in order to secure the co-operation of Louisiana at the present juncture, they were to promise to agree to a duty on sugar, the promise would be repudiated the moment Louisiana had no longer the power to distract the secession movement. This point is surely worth some consideration. Then, again, New Orleans exports, besides sugar, corn, &c., all the cotton grown in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and higher up on the Mississippi river. In 1859 the exports of New Orleans were over one hundred millions of dollars, more than those of New York in 1860. It must be evident to every experienced member of the Louisiana Convention that secession is going to stop this enormous trade, at least for several months. The secession of South Garolina closed the port of Charleston. On the day that Alabama seceded every vessel in Mobile cleared for foreign ports. After the secession of Louisiana the foreign trade of New Orleans will stop until the Southern confederacy is recognized by the United States and by the world. No ship, after that date, can sail with safety from New Orleans for any foreign ports. After the secession is going to stop of the said of New Orleans for any foreign ports. After the secession is for any foreign ports. After the secession of Louisiana the foreign trade of New Orleans for any foreign ports. After the secession for Louisiana the foreign ports. After the secession of Louisiana second of the second of Louisiana second of the louisiana of the louisiana second of Louisiana the foreign p money invested in land, machinery and negroes? It will be idle to expect Georgia, Alabama and den stoppage of a trade of such magnitude as theirs? Do they realize the amount of suffering, confusion and want that would ensue? Or is it too late for considerations of prudence and profit? 'The business of the Sub-Treasury was as follows

In regard to the Indiana State interest Governor Hammond says:—

Believing that the citizens of Indiana desired that her obligations should be kept, the Auditor and Treasurer of the State, together with myself, taking as our authority an act of the General Assembly prescribing the duties of Governor, approved May 27, 1862, made a siona of $125,000 from Mesers. Winslow, Lanier & Co., of the city of New York, giving our obligations to pay the same in Maynext, out of the revenue for the year 1860. It is a matter much to be regretted that Indiana is in such a condition that ahe is compelled togo into the market to borrow money for any purpose whatever. But it is due to truth to state that this necessity would not have existed but for the failure of the Senate of Indiana to pass a revenue bill for the years 1867-8.

A for February, See LADY'S BOOK, is this not still pretier? We mean the Fashion Flate. Our lady folks all asy it is. In despite of the times we continue these expensive plates, and will continue them. The press and our subscribers are enthusiastic in their praise. We know that nothing of this kind has ever before been attempted in France, England or America, and it remained for 109 feV to perfect far-hion plates for the ladies of America. These fashlons are at least six times more besuiff of than the common two figure fashions, and ten times more expensive. For sale by all the dealers.
